BUSINESS HOUSE BURNED.

McMechen's Wholesale Grocery Guttered by Fire.

A VERY STUBBORN BLAZE.

Which Keeps the Department Busy From Seven O'Clock Till Midnight—The Loss is About $35,000.

The wholesale grocery and packing establishment of George K. McMechen & Son, was burned out yesterday evening.

At twenty minutes past seven William Walte, a salesman for Joseph Speidel, discovered smoke and a slight flame issuing from the cellar of the McMechen room, near the South street entrance. He ran to the fire-alarm box at Main and South streets, where Henry Amick turned in an alarm.

The department answered promptly, but the building was so full of smoke when they arrived that it was impossible to enter. Two streams were started into the South street side, and three into the Main street side, but they did little effective service on account of the dense smoke.

In a few minutes the flames had communicated to the second story, and the boxes and packing cases on that floor burned brightly. The smoke was so dense that the men could not go inside, and they had to throw water from the street, through the windows.

At 9 o'clock the fire was at its height, and prospects were good for it communicating to the building occupied by T. T. Hutchison, on the upper side. At that time the insurance men, who held policies on Hutchison's stock of saddlery and saddlery hardware, decided to move it from the building. Permission was obtained from Messrs. Henry K. List and Edward Walte, who were in the building at that time, and in a few minutes a gang of volunteers had carried many articles of value to the List building. About the time the Hutchison stock was cleared out, the flames in such locations as to make it possible for the firemen to get at them easily.

At 10 o'clock the fire was under control, and all danger of it spreading was past. The firemen kept their streams on the fire till midnight, when all sparks were quenched. The fire was confined to the McMechen building, and had its origin in the cellar, although even the firemen thought at first that it had started on the second floor during the night.

YESTERDAY'S POLICE COURT.

The Mayor Imposes Some More Heavy Fines—The Forfeiting Cases.

In Police Court yesterday morning, Edward Flaccus, a representative of Flaccus Bros., and William Hope, a huckster, both arrested on the charge of forestalling the market, were, at their own request, fined $11 and costs each, in order that they might be in a position to appeal their cases, which they promptly did, and they will push them through as speedily as possible.

William Taylor and George Brown, two colored citizens who were making regular cavalry charges at each other with "razz-dazz" music, were fined $5 each, and the case was continued.

The case of Benjamin Hoffman, continued from last morning, was called, but Benjamin came not, it appears that on Monday night this fellow was drunk, and while in that condition drove his two daughters, girls about 18 years old, out of doors. They failed to appear yesterday morning at the morning session of the court and the case was continued. It was suggested that Mayor Seabright at that time that it would be well to adopt some plan by which Benjamin would be present for trial the following morning. The suggestion was deemed a good one and the Mayor solemnly (?) swore the man to be around at the appointed time. The two girls were present yesterday, but Benjamin had evidently forgotten his oath, for he was not to be seen, and the understanding is that he has skipped. The Mayor fined him $2 and costs—to be collected when found.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Messrs. House & Hermann have suffered recently by a man who represented himself as their solicitor, collecting money due them in Mountville. Yesterday, a medium sized man with a red beard, submitted to the Mayor for a sample. Mr. George Christlieb, a salesman, decided that the man was not straight and followed him. At Market and Fourteenth streets he called Officer Short's attention to the stranger, who was taken by the police.

He was taken before Justice Arkle who sent him to jail on suspicion. The man gave the name of James Howard, and will be taken to Mountville to-day to give those who have been imposed upon an opportunity to identify him, if he is the person wanted.

Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

An important meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held for the first time since the fire, and for this evening, and it is the earnest hope of those who have the future welfare of that organization at heart, that there shall be a large turnout of the members. The Board of Directors will, it is understood, submit to the members a plan of ideas which, if followed out, will, it is believed, result in placing the Chamber on a higher, better and more valuable plane than ever before. Before adopting any plan, however, it is desired that there shall be a full, free discussion of its merits. It is desired to make the plan of revival decided upon the most thorough and practical.

Another Bank for Wheeling.

Men of capital and large business interests have in contemplation the founding of another bank in this city. The increased and still growing volume of Wheeling's business, and the fact that all the banks are prospering, leads to the belief that there is an open market for another institution of this character.

The details have not yet been arranged, but the undertaking is believed to have been decided on in a general way. The men at the back of it would be a sufficient guarantee of its success and confidence from the beginning.

Complimentary Reception at the Club.

The management of the Wheeling Club have decided to have the first fall dress social of the season, and for this evening of next week, November 7, one week from to-night. The reception will be complimentary to Secretary A. C. Whitaker and bride, and Director W. W. Lewis. It is the first of a series of affairs of a full dress character that the club has had for some time, it is natural to expect a large attendance of the members with their wives and lady friends, and a most delightful time in every way. Orchestral music will be provided.

Reception to Dr. Ulrich.

Last evening the German Pioneer Society gave a reception, at Arion Hall, in honor of Dr. C. F. Ulrich, recently returned from his trip to Europe. August Weidmeyer delivered an address of welcome, which was happily responded to by Dr. Ulrich, who gave some account of his travels. There were also some remarks by Dr. Ulrich, and a very pleasant evening was spent as the Pioneers so well know how.

Hogan and Sawyer.

The fall of the Wheeling Wheelmen was filled again last night by men and women to hear the evangelists, Messrs. Hogan and Sawyer. The music, a feature of growing attractiveness, was the work of the members of the choir. A large number of people were present with stringed instruments. The choir was much enlarged. The speakers held the close attention of their audience, and many were deeply moved. There is a large number of young men to help in the inquiry meetings.

The Meeting Not Held.

The Republican meeting which was to have been held at Arion Hall last night was declared off because no suitable place could be procured. Hon. A. T. McKelvey and Colonel Poorman were present to address the meeting, and made some important calls among the prominent members of the party. Arrangements were made for a meeting for next Monday evening, which will be addressed by Colonel Poorman.
